

“It’s never good to try to pull out somebody when they’re buried.” see page 6 >>

first gear

Ram^{on}the Lam

This is Bubba. He has a checkered past. The sheep—possibly a Barbados-Mouflon, bred for short hair and better meat, and known for being fleet of foot—spent four months eluding authorities in suburban Durham County, N.C.

While there, he wandered through yards and parks, and into the hearts of many residents, even though it’s estimated he caused about $5,000 worth of damage. The worst of Bubba’s alleged misconduct was breaking car windows, which he smashed after thinking his reflection was a challenger—albeit a really handsome one. >>

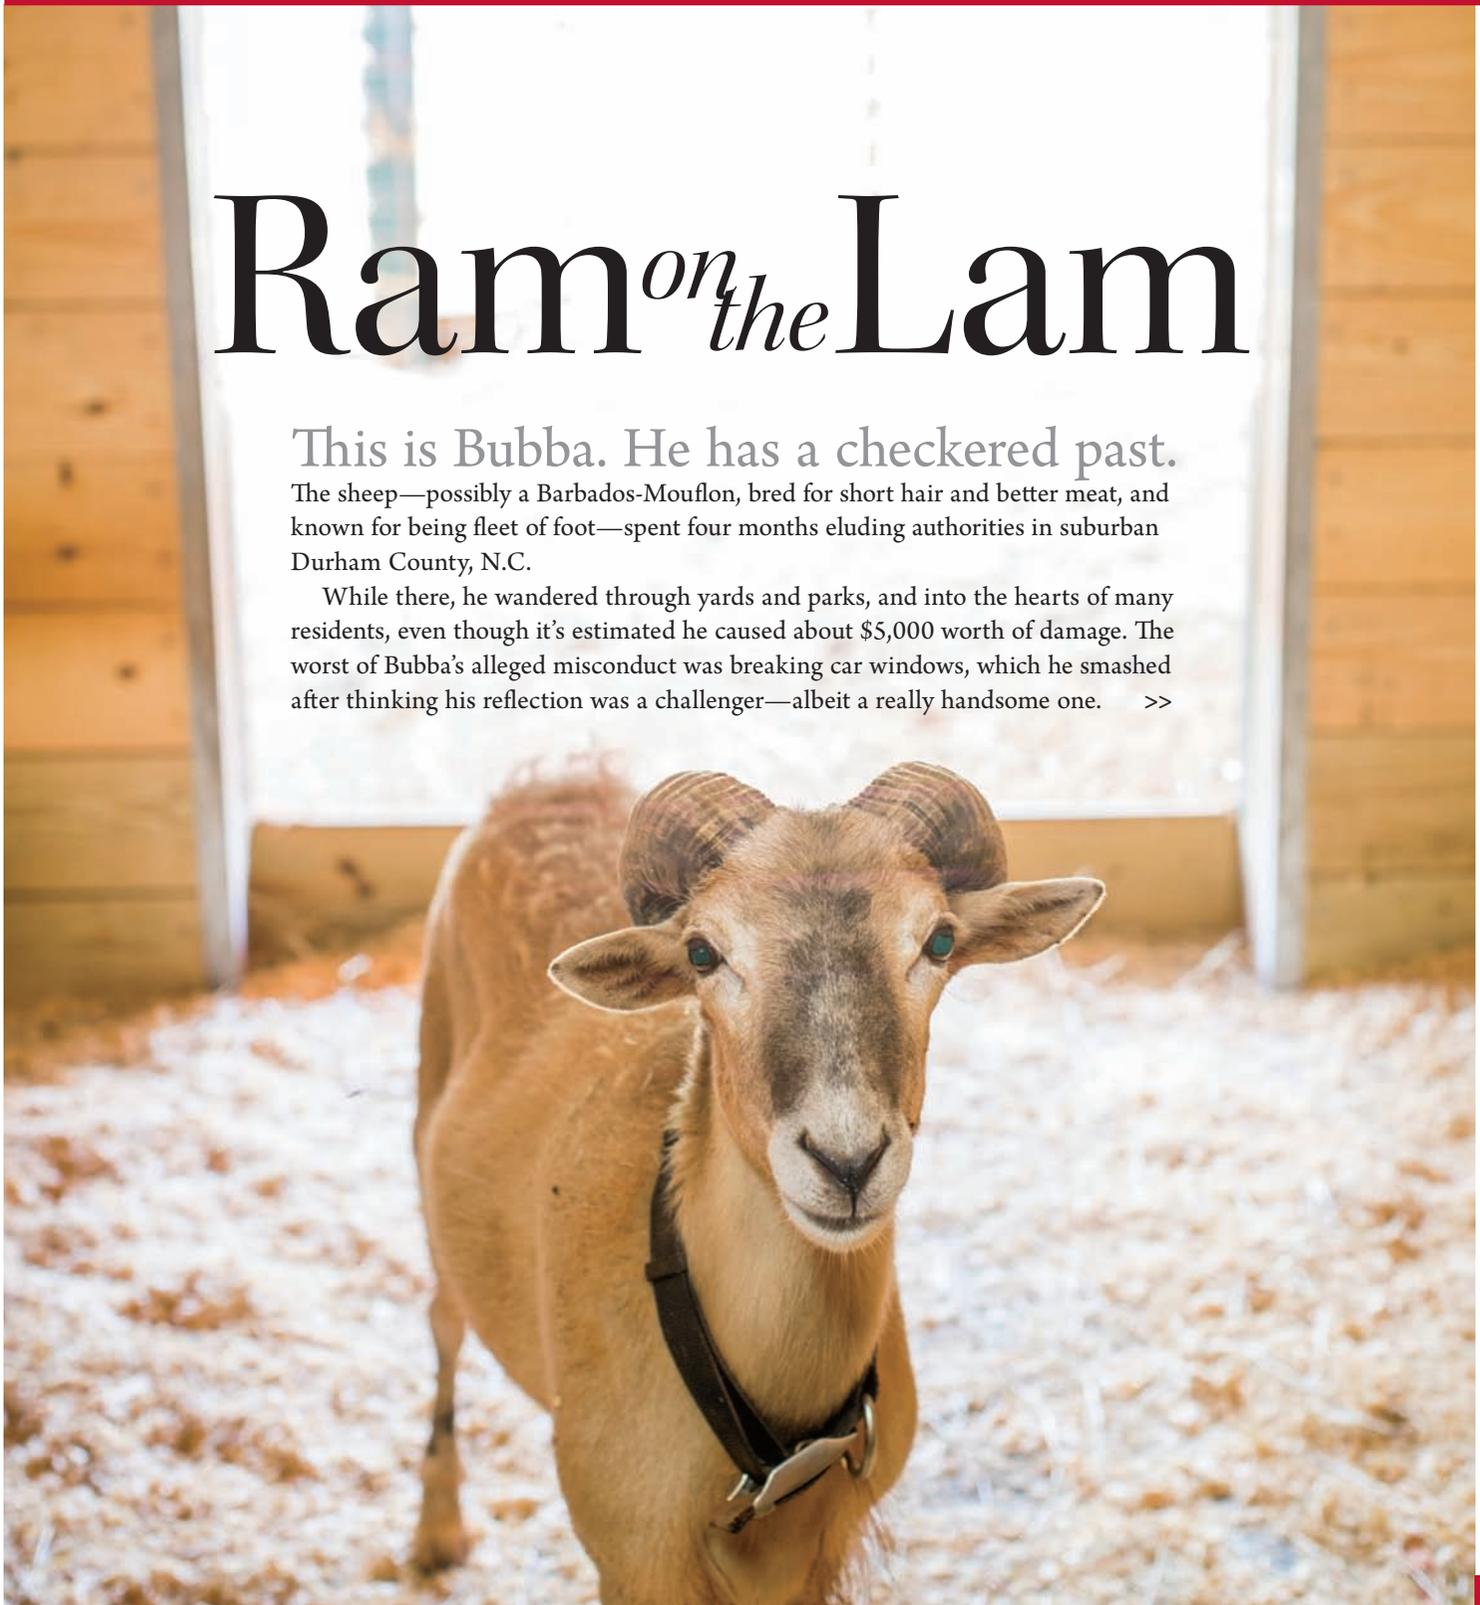

PHOTO: LOGAN CYRUS